WilliamCharles Executive Search Announces Melanie VanDenHout as Research and Recruiting Specialist

VanDenHout to Support the Firm's Global Talent Network

GRAND RAPIDS, MI. May 2, 2006—WilliamCharles Executive Search announces a new hire, Melanie VanDenHout to the newly created position of research and recruiting specialist.

VanDenHout has nearly four years' experience in the recruiting industry, and will concentrate her efforts on leveraging the firm's membership in National Personnel Associates (NPA), a network of more than 1,500 professional recruiters that enables WilliamCharles Executive Search to search globally for specialized talent on behalf of clients. In her new role, VanDenHout will utilize recruiting websites among other research tools to help clients find specialized talent.

Through its relationship with NPA, WilliamCharles Executive Search is able to deliver qualified candidates to firms seeking to fill specialized positions in offices located anywhere around the globe.

“West Michigan-based clients can now tap into the global talent pool while enjoying the benefits of working with local expertise,” said Chuck Smeester, WilliamCharles Executive Search co-founder. “Through our relationship with NPA, WilliamCharles Executive Search is able to successfully deliver the right people to the right organization—regardless of geography.”

WilliamCharles Executive Search is a Grand Rapids-based executive search company with two additional offices in New York. WilliamCharles Executive Search provides retained and contingency personnel placement services to businesses regardless of geography, and specializes in placing executive-level talent such as President and Chief Executive Officer in addition to senior and mid-level professionals in disciplines ranging from human resources, legal, operations, and sales/marketing. Through their subsidiary, Financial Edge Executive Resources, they deliver qualified financial candidates on both a permanent and project basis.

NPA is a member-owned network that brings independent recruiting firms together to facilitate cooperative placements—enabling firms such as WilliamCharles to compete globally, while serving West Michigan-based clients.
